

PRISM NETWORK CLOUD APPLICATION BACKUP

As the SaaS application market continues to grow, the need to manage and protect cloud-based applications becomes increasingly important. Did you know that leading cloud applications only allow the retention and recovery of accidentally or maliciously deleted data for a very limited time? Microsoft OneDrive and SharePoint keep deleted data for 90 days; Microsoft Office 365 and Google G Suite keep it for 30 days; Salesforce.com for only 14 days. After the retention period runs out, the data is deleted forever.

Prism Network Cloud Application backup (PCAB) is designed for a wide range of SaaS applications - whether used in enterprise, remote-branch, or work-at-home office environments. PCAB addresses your backup and recovery needs through a suite of controls around data, risk, and operations. These solutions protect your important data from accidental/malicious deletion, corruption, and ransomware attacks by providing full point-in-time data backup and recovery. PCAB also closes the data retention gap between your corporate policy and SaaS provider.

Why Prism Network Solutions Cloud Application Backup?

Prism Network Cloud Application Backup (PCAB) provides comprehensive data protection for Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) applications to mitigate data loss risks from accidental or malicious deletion, as well as ransomware attacks. The Prism solution provides the administrative control, risk management, and operational flexibility you need to protect your mission-critical application workloads. PCAB does this through a robust management platform that combines ease-of-use with high reliability, and is well-positioned to support the continuing growth of your SaaS application environments.
